Beloved Children:

You will not realize until you are free in God's Heart what a joy it is to those of Us who have served a sleeping mankind for countless ages, without a flicker of recognition on their part, to see at last the soul Light of awakening consciousnesses telling us that man is at last awakening to a knowledge of Our Presence and is willing to take Our hands in love, comradeship and service, uniting his energies with Ours for the upliftment of the race.

Thank you, beloved ones, for the individual expressions of love and gratitude which have come to Me and My Beloved on the beam of your own consciously directed energy. Back over this same tangible path do We now consciously direct to each one of you all the Grace, all the Wisdom, all the Purity, all the Healing and Abundance which it is Our privilege, joy and capacity to bestow. May your faith and trust in the tangibility of Our gifts open the doors and windows of your souls that these benefactions may enter in and take up their abode in your beings and worlds for eternity.

Blessings and Love,

MAHA CHOHAN

Address by the Beloved Archangel Uriel given on May 8, 1955 - Part 3

May God grant that when the souls who stand before Mary today reach maturity on the Earth plane there may be some individuals still in embodiment advanced enough and interested enough to spark their light and fan it into living flame, that they might be able to say with the Beloved Jesus: "For this was I born - for this reason came I into the world of form that I might manifest the Truth!" May each one be able to pray within himself: "All glory be to the One Eternal Father that His mercy has caused me to remember my obligations to life before the sands of my time have run out, while there is still breath in these nostrils, life in these loins, while I yet have strength and energy, the power of speech and feeling, and the capacity to make things right.

Oh, lovely ones, I have so often seen souls return who, like these standing here today at inner levels, had much light which had been swallowed up by the rip-tides of billions of men's and women's thinking; the effluvia of the age attaching itself to their various weaknesses, wrapping itself around them until the day of opportunity had come and gone. Then, their brief time upon the stage of life past, their speeches unsaid, their compositions unplayed, their role unfilled, they returned home. Your poet spoke truly when he said: "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these - it might have been."

Oh, beloved ones, on behalf of those who come to Earth now, I ask a heart-prayer from deep within your being that each incoming soul shall be such a light and fire, such a Presence, that within the course of that one Earth life, not only one, but millions of Christ Beings will be developed.

Now, if you will notice, the Seven Chohans stand within the center of the great group of souls who are seeking re-embodiment. As we described it to you last year, their formation takes the appearance of a gigantic seven-pointed star, each group looking something like the wedge of a great pie, the wide part forming the circle at the center within which the Chohans stand, each One confronting His own people, the formation narrowing outward until it reaches the point of the star.
